1.2 Alumni Status

Alumni status shall be granted to those members who graduated from the University of Florida or otherwise left the university while in good standing. An Alumni member may attend any active event or sisters-only events put on by the chapter as long as she is an active national Alumni, and pays the sorority for the cost of her to attend the event. If a sister's little drops the sorority, the sister is not required to take another little in order to have alumni status upon graduation.

1.3 Early Alumni Status

Early Alumni Status may be granted to any sister with the following requirements:

1. The member must have: completed seven semesters at the University level and has had six or more active semesters in Phi Sigma Rho, counting the semester they joined, excluding the summer semesters, and graduate within two semesters OR must have completed nine semesters at the University level and has seven or more active and/or inactive semesters in Phi Sigma Rho (semesters on Co-Op status will not apply to this count), counting the semester they joined.

1.6 Inactive Status

Inactive status may be granted to any member who has an excessive class load, who is undergoing personal difficulties, or who has a semester or cumulative grade point average of 2.6/4.0 or lower.

Any member whose cumulative grade point average falls below a 2.6 has the option to voluntarily request inactive status and disciplinary action will not be taken against her.

A member may petition for inactive status after completing one full semester in active status. Special circumstances will be evaluated by the Standards Board.

A sister with inactive status

1.7 Co-Op Status

Co-Op status shall be granted to any member who is not currently at the University of Florida but will be returning for classes within a year. This status includes members away for an internship, members studying abroad, or any other member as determined by the VP of Standards and Standards Board.

2.2 Potential Candidate Selection

Candidates will be selected only during the Spring semester & the number of bids given out will be capped at a number equal to the amount of Littles active Big Sisters are willing to take, but is subject to change by the discretion of the President. (Note: the entire Fall semester should be used to recruit the Spring candidate class.)

All active members will vote to offer or not offer a bid to a candidate on a Yes/No/Abstain scale by secret ballot. All active members are encouraged to meet every candidate. All active members in good standing will vote on every candidate. If members would like to offer a bid to a candidate, they vote "Yes." If members would not like to offer a bid to a candidate, they vote "No." If members do not have a preference as to whether a candidate is offered a bid, or they did not get to know the potential candidate sufficiently, they should vote, "Abstain." During pro/con debate, if a member wishes to express agreement with a point that has already been stated, they may say "I second" instead of restating the argument, to maintain efficiency and avoid redundancy. If at least 50% +1 of voters select abstain at any point for a PNM during voting, an immediate revote will be conducted of all voters, with only "Yes" and "No" as options.

There will be three general cuts:

Cut One:

- A potential candidate must receive 50%+1 member to vote "Yes" or "No" (the non-abstention votes) to be considered for the next cut.

Cut Two:

- A potential candidate must have at least 80% of the “Yes” or “No” votes (the non-abstention votes) to be “Yes” in order to move on to the next cut.

A candidate must make it through cuts one & two to be eligible for a bid. The President will announce which candidates are still eligible to receive a bid based on whether they passed cuts one & two.

If at this point, the cap (equal to the number of Bigs) has not been reached, then there is no need to proceed to cut three. Bids are extended to all the eligible candidates in this case. If the number of eligible candidates is higher than the cap, proceed to cut three.

Cut Three:

- Each potential candidate will be given a numerical rank based on the following equation:

$$\# \text{ of Yes votes} - \# \text{ of No votes} = \text{Numerical Rank}$$

The potential candidates will be ranked from highest to lowest numerical value. The candidates will be given bids in order of rank until the cap is reached. If there is a tie for the last spot in the cap (meaning the potential candidate at the cap has the same numerical rank as another potential candidate), then there will be a final cut.

Final Cut:

- The potential candidates that are tied for the remaining spot(s) will be voted on again. Each active will be allowed to vote for the number of spot(s) remaining.
- Each active will write the name(s) of candidates on a single ballot, equal to the number of spot(s) remaining within the cap. The name(s) that receive the highest number of votes will be offered a bid, up until the cap is reached.

Any potential candidate that does not make these cuts will be invited to apply again the following year through an email that also explains they have not been selected to be inducted during the current semester. They will be asked if they would like to be placed on a listserv of potential candidates so that they may be invited to any open socials and/or recruiting events held by the sorority during the current year.

2.3 Legacies

A letter of recommendation may be submitted by a sister (who knows the candidate) to express why she thinks the potential new member would be a great fit into the sorority. Upon receiving a letter from a member of the sorority concerning a daughter, granddaughter, or sister for future sisterhood, that member will be continually invited to all membership recruitment functions (read: Recruitment Events) & given guaranteed consideration in the final vote when choosing candidates for membership.

Any letter from a member of the sorority recommending a member for membership shall be read in final voting, before discussion & voting. If the candidate does not make the initial cut, the written letter about the candidate will be considered a request for a revote.

All letters of recommendation will be due before the beginning of the first Recruitment Event. They will be limited to one page per letter, & there will be a maximum of 3 letters read per potential new member.

2.4 Bids

All candidates with a positive vote by the sorority must be given a bid & informed of the Bid Party & Induction events in person or by email or phone.

If a bid is awarded to a potential candidate, but she cannot participate in the candidate member activities due to University Policies or University of Florida Regulations, her bid may remain open until the end of the following year's recruitment week. Other reasons can be brought to the VP of Standards & Standards Board.

If any of these requirements cannot be met due to special circumstances, the member may make arrangements with the VP of Standards & Standards Board.

The Pearl Sister shall be responsible for:

- Providing a binder (to hold her member manual) for the candidate at the date set by Membership Educators after Induction. A fine of $10 will be given to a Pearl Sister that does not provide a binder within two weeks after Induction, & she will still be required to present the candidate with the respective missing binder.
- Guiding her candidate in sorority procedure, processes, & notable events. This may apply to accompanying her candidate to chapter meetings, explaining procedure, answering questions & sitting with her.

Candidate dues shall be decided by the VP of Finance & approved by the Exec Board. These dues are traditionally higher than active dues to cover more initial fees that are incurred.

1.5 Senior Status Dues

Senior Status dues shall include components in which the Senior member's name appears on the roster. Some examples are national dues, sorority insurance costs, & composite fees. The Senior will also be responsible for a percentage of the current active dues as set by the Exec Board at the time of budget approval (typically 65%).

1.6 Early Alum Dues

Early Alum dues shall include components in which the Early Alum member's name appears on the roster. Some examples are national dues, sorority insurance costs & composite fees.

Section 2: Due Date & Late Fines

The due date & late fine amount for all dues shall be set by the chapter at the first meeting of the semester. Once a member's dues are outstanding for three weeks, the Standards Board may take probationary action.

Section 3: Explanation of Sergeant-at-Arms Fines

The Sergeant-at-Arms, at her discretion, may deliver a verbal warning to the body or member if she feels there is disruptive behavior occurring during chapter or mandatory events. Disruptive behavior is defined, but not limited to the following:

- Cell phone use.
- Laptop use (excluding VP of C&R).
- Personal attacks on other members.
- Interrupting a member while they are speaking to the general body.
- Doing homework.
- Excessive talking.
- Random/inappropriate outbursts.

The Sergeant-at-Arms will issue a warning & explain what rule was broken in this order (warnings do not carry over to future meetings):

- Verbal warning to the whole sorority.
- Verbal warning to the member in question.
- Fine a member that has previously been warned individually. The fine will consist of $1 & will not exceed $1 in a single meeting.
- Lastly, the member will be asked to leave the chapter & will lose their chapter point. This will only occur after a general, individual, & fine warning in the same chapter meeting.

The Sergeant-at-Arms will be checked by the President & any member may refute the fine or loss of the chapter point to the Standards Board. The member then has one week after notification to refute the charge or request an alternate activity from the Standards Board. The fine is due two weeks after the notification & will incur late charges for every week after.

Section 4: Explanation of Fines

Monetary payment of the following fines may be replaced by a service or activity as approved by the Standards Board. The VP of Standards must notify the member of the absence fine within two weeks of the occurrence. The fine is due two weeks after the notification of the fine & will incur late charges of $5 for every week after.

Explanations of fines are as followed (a brief overview of the fines can be viewed in Table 1):

- Violating confidentiality as it applies to Standards Issues. A “Standards Issue” is to be defined as any sensitive matter where confidentiality is of utmost importance to a Standards situation. Examples include: Risk Management infractions/investigations, Points Sheets, Probationary Status, & any other situation in which the VP of Standards specifies the need for confidentiality. The fine will be $50.
- Missing a mandatory meeting or event without an approved excuse. Example: Induction, Initiation, Recruitment, Bylaw Voting, etc. The fine will be $30.
- Missing a Service event that a member was registered for without finding a replacement. This includes failure to show up, canceling one’s attendance within 48 hours of the event for events where sign-ups stop at 48 hours prior to the event, or showing up late to the event where one’s presence is needed for numbers. If hosted by another organization or society, the fine will be $15. If hosted by the sorority, the fine will be $10.
- Submitting a late excuse form without an unforeseeable event, such as a family emergency. The fine will be $5.
- Arriving late to mandatory chapters or events without an approved excuse form or without an unforeseeable excuse, such as a family emergency. The fine will be $5/10 minutes. Being more than 25 minutes late to an event without an approved excuse form will be regarded as missing the event.
- Missing a scholarship event that a member was signed up to attend. This includes failure to show up, or canceling one’s attendance within 48 hours of the event without finding a replacement where sign-ups stop 48 hours prior to the event. The fine will be $10.
- Disrupting meeting fines as defined in Article V: Section 4: Sergeant-at-Arms Fines. The fine will be $1.
- The VP of Standards will ensure all members adhere to the dress code. If a member is observed to be breaking the dress code at an event where pin attire is mandatory, she will be asked to take off her pin. Additionally, a fine of $10 will be incurred by a sister not following the dress code.
- Missing a social event that a member was signed up to attend. This includes failure to show up, or canceling one’s attendance within 48 hours of the event without finding a replacement where sign-ups stop 48 hours prior to the event. The fine will be $10.
- A member must stay for the whole duration of a service event to get her points for participating. If a member leaves early or shows up more than 15 minutes late, without having first notified the VP of Service 48 hours in advance, the fine will be $10.
- Not claiming ordered memorabilia or scheduling to claim ordered memorabilia within a period of two weeks from when the Memorabilia Chair(s) starts to distribute the item. The fine will be $10. If the ordered memorabilia are not purchased/claimed by the end of the semester, the Memorabilia Chair(s) can choose to specify the ordered memorabilia to a different sister if no monies were exchanged for the item by the initial orderer.
- All voluntary resignations will be subject to a $25 fine. (Extenuating circumstances may be taken to the Standards Board for petition.)

- Submitting a late GPA to the VP of Scholarship. The fine will be $10.
- Fines for service events will be allocated as a service donation.
- Submitting any required form (other than Risk Management & Status Change) including, but not limited to, the graduating senior form, information update form, dues & fees contract, & emergency contact form late. The fine is $5.

6. All active members in good standing are eligible to vote for officer elections.
7. The floor will be opened to the Sorority for questions. During this time, each nominee's response to the questions will be limited to one minute.
8. Officers must be elected by simple majority through secret ballot. Officer elections are mandatory events.

9. One of the elected Membership Educators must be from a class prior to the one initiated in the previous semester. To make this possible, during elections, there will be two groups to choose from, one from which you must choose at least one person.

The turn-over period will be from the last chapter of March through the last day of finals of the Spring semester. In this period, the officers from the previous year will assist the newly elected officers in the transition to office. The previous officer will still be responsible for all duties her office entails during the transition period. Newly elected officers will conduct the last chapter of the Spring semester & become solely responsible for their office's duties on the last day of finals. 3.4 Length of Term

Officers, except for Chair Positions & Sister-at-Large, will hold office for one academic year, from the last day of the Spring semester until the next officer takes office. Sister-at-Large & Chair Positions will hold office from the last meeting of the semester before their term to the last meeting of their term unless specified.

3.5 Resignations & Impeachments

Impeachment must be recommended by an active member & conducted by the Standards Board.

Mandatory functions include the following:

Excuse forms for mandatory events will be due two days prior to the event except for events that the Sorority spends money; in which case, the excuse forms will be due two weeks in advance.

Certain infractions will result in immediate evaluation by the Standards Board. Conduct unbecoming to a sister of Phi Sigma Rho, such as public drunkenness or larceny, is a violation of the local chapter's constitution & thus will not be permitted (see Section 4 below)

4.2 Positive Points System

The positive points system is designed to show members' participation in sorority activities. Members will be required to earn a certain amount of points each semester to remain in good standing with the chapter.

Only members signed up to attend the event at the start of the event will receive points.

Designated scholarship, social, or service events can have registration requirements where a member only needs to sign up or take their name off before the event starts, not 48 hours before the day of the event, such as with events without extensive planning or caps. This designation must be specified when the event is announced. All other undesignated social, scholarship, & service events will follow the normal 48-hour rule.

If a member finds that she will not be able to complete the minimum requirement of meeting points or service points, she may request for special considerations for the Standards Board.

Crisis Management Plan

This crisis management plan has been developed to aid chapters in the event of an emergency or tragedy. A sorority crisis situation may be prompted by any of the following occurrences:

- An accident resulting in serious injury or death.
- A member attempting or committing suicide.
- A sexual assault or battery of a member.
- A chapter member, members, or the entire chapter being accused of violating local, state, or federal law, or campus regulations.
- A fire or serious damage caused by storm or flood to the chapter house or facility.

In such crisis situations, & other types of emergencies not identified above, the crisis management plan is to be followed by the chapter leadership. In case of widespread disasters, hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, & terrorist acts, follow the chapter emergency disaster plan.

All of this, no doubt, seems grim & harsh. Everyone hopes that no chapter will ever have to use these procedures. But sadly, that hope is not realistic. Tragedies do occur & are usually unpredicted. You can ease the situation by being prepared to follow these procedures.

If at any time a member is not comfortable approaching chapter leadership with a crisis, that member or any member that is aware of the crisis can report it directly to the Executive Director & the VP of Collegiate Affairs.

1. Who is in charge during an emergency?

Be certain that each person in the chapter knows that the chapter president is in command of every crisis situation involving injury or death.

The following is the ranking order of officers & each should have a copy of this crisis management plan.

1st Officer - President

2nd Officer - VP Standards

3rd Officer - VP C&R

4th Officer - VP Finance

2. Emergency phone calls to make

1st: The local emergency number. If the emergency situation is a fire, immediately call 911 for the fire department. Do not hesitate to call the campus police regardless of the situation.

Local Emergency Number: 911

Campus Police (Non-Emergency): (352) 392-1111

2nd: Call the campus contact. This person will discuss the situation with you & in all serious cases can be at the incident location in a matter of minutes. Always call, day or night, if you are in doubt as to whether a situation is serious or not.

3. When a member is injured, becomes ill, dies, or attempts suicide

- In the case of a suicide attempt, with or without serious injury, do not assemble your members. The appropriate campus or police official will notify the parents.
- In the event of a serious accident or illness, the medical personnel will notify the parents & advise them of the student's physical condition.
- In the event of a death, the appropriate campus or police official will notify parents. Do not announce it until the appropriate official has arrived to help. Be careful about this information, since a statement should not be released until the family has been notified.

4. Informing members & making public statements

1st: Assemble your members in a group & inform them of the crisis situation. If there is a need to inform members who are not present, you may delegate this responsibility to another member. It is important that all members remain calm during the crisis

2nd: Instruct your members to make no statements to anyone other than the campus officials, police, or sorority officials. Members should not make any comments, on or off the record, to the media. Members should not discuss via any electronic communication or post anything online. All members & the chapter should "clean up" their online presence.

3rd: Only the chapter president may make statements to be issued to the media after the situation is under control & the statements are approved by sorority headquarters & campus officials. Make sure members know what the president's statements will be.

Avoid responding with "No comment." Examples of preferred replies: "I do not have that information." or "I cannot answer that at this point." or "This is an unfortunate & regrettable event. Currently, we are cooperating fully with the proper authorities. Further information will be given promptly when we are certain of all the facts."

5. How to cope

Remember that campus officials are always available for counseling & other assistance. Individual & group counseling is strongly recommended following any crisis situation. No matter how well things appear to be going, counseling & other support services are both wise & appropriate. It is, of course, proper to send sympathy cards & notes, flowers, etc. to any member involved in the crisis situation. If a member is in the hospital, find out the visitation wishes of the family & coordinate this with your members. If a funeral or memorial service is to be held, you should help coordinate member attendance.

Reporting of a Crisis Situation or Incident

In order to understand what needs to be reported & how to go about reporting it, a short list of questions & ideas have been compiled to use as general guidelines. Chapter members have a responsibility to promptly report all incidents that could result in an insurance claim. Prompt reporting often can prevent minor incidents from developing into major problems.

Remember, DO NOT admit liability or responsibility for any incident or accident. In general, liability claims are a result of conditions on your premises &/or general operations that are likely to involve someone other than members.

What do I report?

- Any incident that caused or contributed to an injury or death.
- Any demand for compensation, whether verbal or written.
- Any lawsuits or subpoenas served on you or your chapter by an officer of the court.
- Any contacts by an attorney or investigator asking about an occurrence that happened at the chapter facility or involved chapter members.
- While on the scene of an incident or accident, get names, addresses, & telephone numbers of all parties involved & of all witnesses.
- Any accusation of hazing or illegal behaviors.

What do I do after I report?

- Do not admit responsibility or liability in any incident or accident.
- NEVER discuss an incident with an attorney or investigator without clearance from the Executive Director or the National VP of Collegiate Affairs.
- Appoint one spokesperson (usually the chapter president) to handle any questions from outsiders about the incident.
- Instruct the chapter members not to discuss the incident online or via any other social media.
- Within 48 hours, submit a detailed written narrative to the Executive Director & the National VP of Collegiate Affairs with as much information as possible, including witnesses, circumstances leading to the incident, whether alcohol was involved, & if it was a chapter-sponsored event (see the Crisis Situation Reporting Form).
- Continue constant communication with the Executive Director & the National VP of Collegiate Affairs.

What can I do to protect my chapter, my sorority, & myself?

- Use common sense & good judgment.
- Contact your RFD or the National VP of Collegiate Affairs with any questions.
- Report all the facts as they happened. Do not attempt to hide or alter the facts no matter how damaging they may seem. Investigations are based on the facts as reported.\

Article VII: Discipline

Section 1: Accountability

Any accusations regarding violations of Phi Sigma Rho's National Risk Management Policy are to be reported to the VP of Standards, who is to notify the sitting National VP of Standards immediately. An investigation is to be conducted by the chapter VP of Standards & presented to the Standards Board for disciplinary action. The duration of this investigation, from the first accusations to the verdict decision, shall not exceed 2 weeks. The investigation shall include confidential interviews of all members known or thought to be involved in the incident. All members must be questioned respectfully & objectively. Honesty & confidentiality must be stressed. Should the member(s) in question be found in violation of the National Risk Management Policy, they may be deactivated, removed from office, placed on probation, have her requirements altered, &/or be fined at the discretion of the Standards Board. The VP of Standards will notify the Chapter at the next Chapter Meeting, so long as it does not jeopardize the confidentiality of the members involved. Members' names are to be kept private.

Any member who feels that they have been discriminated against by another member has the right to a review of the events by the Exec Board. The member with the claim must file a written complaint, which will be evaluated by the Exec Board. If the board sees fit, disciplinary action will be taken against the second member, in accordance with the severity of the action.

Section 2: Probation

A member may be placed on probation for either academic reasons, financial reasons, or "conduct unbecoming," where the member would have violated Phi Sigma Rho standards. A member shall be placed on probation for financial reasons if they fail to pay their dues &/or any accumulated charges from memorabilia, fines, etc. before the end of the semester. If the member has an extenuating circumstance, they may bring their case to the Standards Board. The requirements for a member that is on probation for either academic or financial reasons is defined by Article III, Section 1.8.

The Standards Board may choose to place a member on inactive status rather than probation. If this is the case, all inactive rules apply. The inactive semester counts towards the member's limit.

Section 3: Deactivation

A member may deactivate voluntarily by approaching the President or VP of Standards. They may also be recommended for deactivation by the Standards Board or Exec Board.

For a recommended deactivation, the status of the sister of concern will be decided in the following manner:

1. The Exec Board will vote on the deactivation of the member. A vote of $\frac{3}{4}$ of the Exec Board members is required for deactivation of the member.
2. If any members disagree with the outcome of the vote, a discussion with reasons for or against the deactivation of the member may proceed. After the discussion, a second vote will take place, with the same rules as above. A vote of $\frac{3}{4}$ of the active members is required for deactivation of the member.
3. Once notified, the sister of concern has one week to appeal the decision to the Standards Board.

4. If no appeal is made, or if the Standards Board holds the prior decision, deactivation is effective in seven days following the notification.

Members with either a recommended deactivation or voluntary deactivation will proceed as follows:

5. The deactivated member is required to pay all accumulated fines & the current semester's dues.
6. The deactivated member must sign the following Release Oath, which is found in the National Constitution, as well as return her member manual, badge, member certificates, & any material containing Sorority secrets. The Release Oath must be signed by the expelled member, the Chapter President or VP Standards, & at least one active member as witnesses. By signing the deactivation form, the member is cutting their ties to Phi Sigma Rho & its privileges. For them to portray a member in any way, shape, or form in voice or on paper is perjurious.
7. A member who wishes to voluntarily terminate the membership shall sign the Release Oath in the presence of at least one active member or a notary.

Release Oath:

"I solemnly swear that I will in no way reveal to others any of the secrets of Phi Sigma Rho, nor will I ever express myself in any way so as to defame the name of Phi Sigma Rho or any of its members."

8. The National Council must be notified of all member expulsions & voluntary terminations of membership.
